

In today's world, there is much stress on the First Amendment rights of United States citizens. Limiting the capabilities of XM radio makes the FCC and the NAB look like superintendents in a boarding school that think that XM "satellite" radio is the devil.

Do not limit what XM has to offer. I live in a market not effected by the weather offerings and find it interesting that it's raining in Miami, but I'm in Tennessee in a small rural radio market where Clear Channel owns the only decent radio station in the area. XM Radio is an escape from the CC Beast and gives me the CHOICE of what i want to listen to.

DO NOT LIMIT XM RADIO.
